The Thoughtful Rider

Preparation is the Basis of the Extended Trot

When your test calls for an extended trot on the diagonal you must prepare your horse on the short side. Try to engage your horse a little more; ride will through the corner with the inside leg firmly on the horse and the outside rein giving support and balance. After the corner the horse should be straightened and a half halt should proceed the first extended stride.

Once the horse executes the extension you must move your hands a little forward to permit the neck to stretch and to give more freedom of the shoulder. Keep the rhythm in your hands. Watch that your horse does not fall on the forehand or start running. Give a half halt when crossing the center line to avoid these problems.

Rolf A. Vlatten, M.D.

If training has not made a horse more beautiful, nobler in carriage, more attentive in his behavior, revealing pleasure in his own accomplishment, then he has not truly been schooled in dressage.

Col. Hans Handler

New DVD: Dressage Movements Revealed with Betsy Steiner, Susan Harris, Coralie Hughes, and Jim Masterson, creator of The Masterson Method®

Dressage Like You Have Never Seen It Before!

In this fascinating two-disc DVD set, Jim Masterson—creator of the Masterson Method®—teams up with USDF Bronze, Silver, and Gold Medalist Betsy Steiner, renowned author and artist Susan Harris (creator of the Anatomy in Motion® DVD series), and USDF Bronze Medalist, and Masterson Method certified practitioner and instructor Coralie Hughes. Together, this crack team of experts demonstrates the unique demands put on the physiology of the modern dressage horse; how this affects his training; and what riders can do to improve the horse's ability to perform the movements required at different levels. Viewers will discover:

- What goes on in the horse's body during dressage performance.
- How to recognize when "hidden" physical restrictions may be limiting the horse's ability.

- Sport-specific Masterson Method Techniques that are easy to use to help maintain suppleness, flexibility, and rhythm while promoting longevity in the dressage horse.

JIM MASTERSON—equine massage therapist for the 2006, 2008, 2010, and 2012 USET Endurance Teams, and for equine clientele competing in FEI World, Pan American, Nations Cup and World Equestrian Games competitions—developed a system in which the horse participates in the bodywork process by showing where tension has accumulated, precisely how much pressure is needed to release it, and when it has been released. The result is an effective method of bodywork that anyone can learn to use to improve performance, while at the same time opening new levels of communication and trust with the horse. Jim is the author of the bestselling book Beyond Horse Massage and the DVD of the same name. He teaches Masterson Method® seminars and advanced courses to horse owners, trainers, and therapists worldwide (mastersonmethod.com).

Without a doubt, Jim Masterson's work is AMAZING! It is gentle, effective, and strengthens the bond and communication between you and your horse. His method directly complements what I do while training. For me, it's the perfect combination of both 'physical therapy' from the ground and from the saddle."

- Jane Savoie, Three-Time Olympic Coach,
Speaker and US Team alternative

A Personal Thank You from Tillie Jones, Recipient of the 2013 NDA Jr/YR Scholarship

Thank you NDA!

My name is Tillie Jones and I am honored to win the 2013 NDA JR/YR scholarship. I used the scholarship towards the Dressage Seat Medal Finals held in Estes Park, CO August 16 -18. This was my third year competing in the 13 and under age division. I have always enjoyed competing in the Dressage Seat Medal competition because it focuses strictly on your seat, aids, leg, rider position and transitions. I think a good seat is the foundation to becoming a good rider.

I had a great time in Estes Park. In the past, I have usually been the youngest one competing at the Dressage Seat Medal Finals. It is so nice meeting other aspiring riders my age. I got to reconnect with a friend from Florida, Melanie, whom I met last year at finals. I also got to meet Lendon Gray. Lendon discussed with us the Dressage4kids Program that many riders competing that weekend had already had the opportunity to attend. She offered some great pointers on how we can get involved in various dressage clinics, such as the Emerging Dressage Athlete Program.

The thing that surprised me the most was that I didn't realize how the altitude would affect me. Previously, the finals had always been at Lamplight in Chicago. I know my mom was concerned about the altitude with my pony, Darby. We gave him electrolytes a week before the show. The horse that stalled next to us didn't like the Colorado water, so they ended up buying bottled water for their horse. Darby did just fine, however, I didn't fare so well.

During the Dressage Seat Medal Finals, there is a "warm-up" the day before the final competition. During the "warm-up", I did not drink enough water (even though my dad kept on telling me to ☺). As I was schooling before the "warm-up", I got really light headed. I thought I was going to be sick. I was at a point where I thought I was going to have to scratch. I did make it through the "warm-up", but it was not my best ride. I came in 6th out of 12. I was really upset because last year at finals during the "warm-up" I came in 1st.

For the finals, I came in 11th out of 12. During the competition, I was really nervous. I think I had a lot of weight on my shoulders from last year because I ended up 3rd overall. I really wanted to win. I did some really basic mistakes like I was on the wrong posting diagonal for rising trot! I was so focused on keeping my hands quiet, my legs quiet, my head straight, my thumbs up that I forgot about the obvious. It was a really tough experience to go through, but I am glad that I did. It will make me a stronger rider and better mentally prepared for next year. I know I tried hard, worked hard and my family was very proud of me and that is all that matters.

One thing my dad always asks me after every ride, "Did you have fun?" I know now why he asks me that...it is always good to keep everything in perspective because the most important thing is to have FUN!

Announcement from the NDA Fundraising Committee

The 2013 Fundraising Committee is pleased to present Sponsorship Opportunities for 2014. In 2012, deep discounts were offered to kick-start Sponsorships and allow for a late start to the 2013 advertising year. In 2013, changes were made to the pricing to reflect a full year of newsletter advertising and to align our rates more competitively in our region. We made changes to benefits based on what worked well and what did not. We are also pleased to offer car magnets this year as a Sponsor Perk with your logo! We will be rolling out the new packages at the Annual Meeting and Awards Banquet on November 9th. To qualify for the early bird special pricing, checks and ads must be received no later than 12/15/2013. If you have any questions, please contact Lisa Van Stratten at dalevanstratten@huntel.net or 402-468-4050.

Joining me on the Fundraising Committee this year are Cindee Hansen and Melissa Ward. Both are valuable assets to NDA. Cindee and I will coordinate donations and Melissa will focus on ads. If you do not have a professional advertisement, Melissa works as a graphic artists and can be hired to create your special ad.

We can always use additional committee members so if you are interested in helping to create sponsorship opportunities, fundraising, or advertising, please let us know. We would love to have you join our team!

We would like to give a huge thank you to all the 2013 Sponsors! Without you, we would not have our Cornhusker Classic, Schooling Show Championships, and educational events. Thank you for all the support you've given to NDA!

JANE FUCINARO DRESSAGE

basic lessons advanced training

Based out of Middle Cross Stables south of Lincoln, Nebraska, Jane is now accepting new students of all types of backgrounds, disciplines and skill sets.

Through techniques in improving body awareness, we become students of the horse. Jane emphasizes this principle along with classical dressage training, resulting in quiet relaxation between horse and rider.

Services include: riding lessons on schooling horses, groundwork with problem or unbroke horses, Western Dressage lessons, show coaching and more. Not from Lincoln? No problem! Services are offered in Omaha and the surrounding area.

The Dressage Foundation's Century Club

Honoring Senior Dressage Riders and Horses

THE CENTURY CLUB was formed at The Dressage Foundation in 1996, at the suggestion of noted dressage judge and instructor, Dr. Max Gahwyler (CT). The Century Club recognizes dressage riders and horses whose combined age totals 100 years or more. Horse and rider perform a dressage test of any level at a show or event, and are scored by a dressage judge or professional.

The intent of the Century Club is to encourage senior dressage riders to remain active in the sport. Since its formation, the Century Club has grown into a meaningful and popular endeavor for equestrians across the country. This is a wonderful group, not only experienced in horsemanship, but in various and unique life experiences.

The Dressage Foundation is very proud of each Century Club Team and is pleased to present a ribbon and plaque to each new member.

Riders interested in joining the Century Club should submit an application to The Dressage Foundation prior to the ride. The Century Club application can be found at www.DressageFoundation.org, or contact Jenny Johnson, Administrative Director, at (402) 434-8585.
