NDA 2012 End of Year Awards and Banquet

It's that time of year again to send in your scores for NDA year-end awards. The Year End Banquet is scheduled for November 3, 2012. If you are planning on attending the Banquet, please fill out the Attendance Form on page 5 and submit with payment to Briana Beckworth by October 15, 2012. Details are on the form.

Here are some helpful hints for awards submission:

By October 5, 2012, please submit the following:

- A list of all rider & horse teams and each rider's status (JR, AA or Open).
- Horse's owner, if the rider doesn't own the horse, and whether the owner is an NDA member.
- Which awards are you applying for?
- Did you ride more than one horse? If so, please submit a separate report for each horse.
- Are you submitting scores for both USDF recognized and Schooling Shows? If so, please list separately. Scores for recognized shows may be downloaded from the USDF website or Centerline.com.
- If you are submitting scores for more than one level, please list each level separately.
- Please list your scores in order, i.e., low-to-high or high-to-low.
- Did you satisfy your volunteer hours or donations? (6 hours worked at an NDA event or $60 donation, or combination of hours and donations)

Volunteer hours for NDA recognized events know at this time are listed in the Nebraska Dressage Association Volunteer Hours 2012 spreadsheet (see page 6). Check the top of the spreadsheet for the events that are included. If you volunteered at an event or show that is not listed, please complete (with required signatures) the 2012 Volunteer Hours Report Form and include it with your 2012 Score Report Form (see page 7). If you have any questions about volunteer hours, please contact Lisa Van Stratten at dalevanstratten@huntel.net.

Please return all annual trophies from 2011 to NDA at the next Board meeting on October 8, 2012, at Parkers Smokehouse, Highway 6 and 63 in Ashland, NE, between 6:30 and 7:30pm. If you are not able to return a trophy at this meeting, please contact Jami Kment to make other arrangements. Please email the necessary forms to Jami Kment at kjment@yahoo.com or mail it to 663 C Road, Palmyra, NE 68418. If you have questions, please call Jami at 402-450-3902 or call any board member.

In case you weren't aware of the preparation, costs, and planning that had to happen to make it to Greenwich Park, here are some fun facts that you may not know about these incredible athletes.

Maybe you've wondered how exactly these horses make the journey across the pond from the United States to Britain. Fed Ex of course! Airplanes used for equine transportation are specially equipped with box stalls either built into the aircraft, or the horses are loaded into what are known as 'airstables', which can accommodate up to three horses. Each horse travels with its own groom and there is, of course, a veterinarian on the flight to assist in case of any emergency.

Steffen Peters just recently announced the retirement of his longstanding partner, Ravel, a horse that competed undefeated during 2012 prior to the Olympics. Also retiring a second time is Anky Van Grunsven's fabulous Hanoverian gelding Salinero, a multiple gold medalist himself.

Jan Ebeling and Rafalca have of course brought much attention to our sport as the Oldenburg mare is co-owned by the Republican Presidential Candidate's wife, Ann Romney. Not that we Dressage riders needed the publicity to know it, but it is true: Dressage is #1!

Education, Fun & Friends!

By Stephan Hienzsch, USDF Executive Director

The United States Dressage Federation (USDF) will be hosting its 2012 annual convention in New Orleans, December 5 - 8. Dressage enthusiasts from all around the country will gather to further their dressage education, get more involved with the sport, and share experiences and achievements with peers and friends. Mixed in with the sights and sounds of New Orleans this year's Adequan/USDF Annual Convention promises to be unforgettable!

Legends of the sport, such as USDF Hall of Fame Inductee and Olympian Hilda Gurney, world renowned speaker Dr. Hilary Clayton, and an impressive line-up of horse health and industry experts will be presenting a wide range of educational topics. Roundtable discussions, open forums, and interactive meetings provide the opportunity for gaining insight into USDF programs and comparing notes with peers from across the nation.

Education topics and interactive sessions include harmonizing with your horse, the relationship between conformation and mechanics in the performance of the dressage horse, joint disease in the equine athlete, the importance and effective incorporation of carbohydrates in a horse's diet, minimizing the risk of colic, and rider strength and fitness. There are also opportunities to learn more about equine insurance, USDF programs, professional continuing education and networking, and local clubs. The always popular GMO Roundtable discussions will cover topics such as creating surveys, hiring show management, motivating members to join, insurance needs for GMOs, and USDF e-TRAK as a member benefit.

A special event, "Looking Back at London" will provide an opportunity to hear from an entertaining array of Olympic guests, who will share their Olympic experiences and provide insight into what happened behind the scenes.

On Friday and Saturday, join us for the Board of Governor's General Assembly where all of the yearly USDF decisions will be made and delegates will vote for USDF President, Treasurer, and Regional Director for all even regions. Also, special recognition of GMOs and regional volunteers will take place with the awarding of the GMO Newsletter Awards, Website Award, Photography Award and recognition of the Regional GMO Volunteers of the Year. Make sure to be in attendance to have your voice heard, to receive your awards, or to support your fellow GMOs and volunteers for their outstanding achievements!

The highlight of the convention will be the Salute Gala and Annual Awards Banquet. Join your friends in a festive, Mardi Gras-themed, masquerade ball as we honor Hall of Fame inductees, Olympians, leaders of the sport, and annual award recipients.

The Southern Eventing and Dressage Association (SEDA) will be extending southern hospitality and hosting an authentic Cajun welcome party at Mulate's, a local venue providing food, music, and atmosphere that must be experienced to believe.

The convention host hotel is the Sheraton New Orleans, just steps from the heart of the historic French Quarter. Dine at some of the finest restaurants in the country, experience the architecture of an old world city, and enjoy the music, culture, and flavor that is New Orleans with a stroll down Bourbon Street, a hot Dixieland band, and even hotter Creole cuisine.

As they say in New Orleans, "Laissez les bon temps rouler!" (Let the good times roll!)

NDA Board Member Bio – Jane Fucinaro

Currently I reside in Lincoln, Nebraska, where I recently graduated from UNL with a degree in Animal Science, Equine emphasis. If I'm not at Middle Cross Stables riding or teaching lessons, you can find me at my part-time coffee shop job in town. I was recently asked by Angie McClelland to help out with her 4-H group, and I look forward to becoming involved in that community.

In my days as a junior member, I served for the NDA board as the Jr./Yr. Representative for approximately a year and a half. I was actively competing in local and regional Dressage shows, as well as national Morgan horse shows. My first competition horse, Misty Green Jeremy, is now my full time school horse for beginner lessons. My current mounts include my beautiful Oldenburg mare, Callisto; a young Morgan gelding, Guy; and several clients' horses. Callisto and I have been partners for seven years and hope to someday compete at Grand Prix. While showing is a long-term goal of mine, I have prioritized learning the ins and outs of the training process. I am forever humbled and inspired by what I learn from the horses.

When I received the offer to run for a position on the NDA board, I was both flattered and excited. I feel that as a recent college graduate, with flexible hours in the coffee shop and the horse training, that I can contribute a good amount of time and talent to this organization by bringing in fresh ideas and information to members. While Dressage is a very serious sport, I believe fun and lightheartedness should be promoted during shows and educational events to gain interest from not only the Dressage crowd, but newcomers to the sport and other amateurs across Nebraska. Having been involved in the Morgan horse shows, I've seen how the events can be rewarding and enjoyable and I would love the opportunity to bring these qualities into our wonderful sport of Dressage. The NDA has been supportive of me during my time as a Junior Rider and I welcome the opportunity to give back to our other NDA members.

Thank you for your consideration!

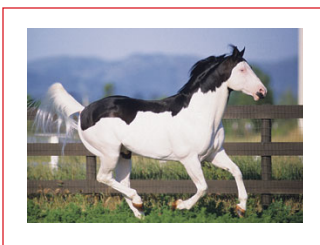

Equine Genetics Education – the Splashed White Overo Gene

Please enjoy the following article about the genetics behind color variations in a number of breeds and how it can affect the horse's hearing. Even though the sport of Dressage is dominated by Warmblood breeds, here in the Midwest we do ride stock horse breeds and this article is quite interesting in regards to the breeds most common in our region of the country.

Description

Many splashed white horses are characterized by a large blaze, extended white markings in legs, variable white spotting in belly, pink skin, and often blue eyes. In other cases the un-pigmented areas are quite small and cannot be distinguished from horses with other more subtle depigmentation phenotypes. Typically though, most splashed white horses look as though they were dipped in white paint feet first. The head, legs and belly may be white, sometimes connected to a patch running up either side of the thorax. The margins of the white markings are crisp, and well-defined.

Occasional congenital deafness is associated with white or white patterned, blue-eyed animals, including dogs and cats. It is important to note that most splashed white horses are not deaf. Hearing loss is due to the death of the necessary hair cells, caused by the absence of melanocytes in the inner ear. Although the majority of splash horses have pigment around the outside of the ear, the pigment must occur in the inner ear to prevent hearing loss.

DNA Testing Can Identify Horses That Have the Genetic Mutation Responsible for SW-1, SW-2, and SW-3 Genes

Research suggests that the SW-1 allele arose several hundred years ago before the foundation of the modern horse breeds. Breed distribution of SW-1 includes Quarter Horse, Paint, Trakehner, Miniature Horse, Shetland Pony, and Icelandic Horse and may be present in other breeds as well. Horses homozygous for SW-1 (SW1/SW1) have been identified, which suggests that this mutation is not homozygous lethal. Research also suggests that SW-2 and the rare SW-3 may only occur in certain lines of Quarter Horses and Paints. It is also speculated that SW-2 and SW-3 may be homozygous (two copies of the mutation) lethal and result in non viable embryos. It is therefore not advisable to breed two horses that carry SW-2 or SW-3 as the risk of a nonviable embryo could be 25% and should be avoided.
